

Course Description:

ESL-091L - ESL Skills Development Lab Units: 0.5

The content of this lab will facilitate skills development for ESL 091. It is designed to supplement classroom instruction by providing students the opportunity to work on an individualized basis with software, web-based materials, and essays previously assigned by the ESL instructor and to receive individual critique of their written work. Students must enroll concurrently in ESL 091.

Lecture Hours: 0 Lab Hours: 1.5 Repeatable: No Grading: K

Prerequisite: ESL 091

Corequisite: ESL 091

CAN: None

Advisory Level: Read: None Write: None Math: None

Transfer Status: None Degree Applicable: NAA

CSU GE: None District GE: None IGETC: None

Learning Outcomes:

1. Demonstrate a variety of strategies for organizing, writing, and revising paragraphs and essays
2. Demonstrate increased understanding of English syntax and grammatical elements for effective writing
3. Use the Internet for research on a specific topic, thereby improving scanning and reading skills
4. Expand passive and active academic and practical vocabulary
5. Demonstrate an increased ability to use word forms correctly in sentences
6. Develop spelling and punctuation skills.
7. Develop independent learning strategies and study skills